THE RIVER HAS BEEN FULLED FOR SOME TIME, and it is now down to a pretty low stage. The water is clear, and the current is strong.

A Memorandum, introduced.—The New York Courier and Enquirer came to us yesterday with a memorandum. It measures (says an eastern paper) 54 by 48 inches, and a review of the market, prices current, bank note table, rate of freight, rates of insurance, price of stocks, exchange list, and 20 columns of reading matter.

Care for your eye.—Take a small lamp of copal, any about the size of a pea; put it in a small phial, holding about 2 ounces of water; carry this in the pocket, and occasion to use it. Turn the phial upon the finger's eye, and thus bath the eyes. This will positively effect a real cure in a short time. (Am. Farmer.)
