THE NEXT CONGRESS.

We copy from the Washington Union the following list of members elect to the next Congress. The Union says:

"There are yet three vacancies to be filled in the Senate, by the choice of a Senator from each of the States of Tennessee, Connecticut and California. Of the fifty-nine Senators elect, thirty-four are Democrats, twenty-three Whigs, and four—that is to say, Messrs. Hale, Seward, Sumner and Chase—are Free Soilers. The elections yet to take place will add to the Whigs one Senator from Connecticut, and to the Democrats two probably from California and Connecticut. So that parties will stand as follows in the Senate:
Democrats, 36; Whigs, 22; Free Soilers, 4.

The House of Representatives will consist of two hundred and thirty-one members. Of this number one hundred and twenty-two are now elected—the Democrats one hundred and fifteen, and the Whigs eighty-three. Two, declaring from the Democratic to Free-Soilers on the list, and four, the Whigs, the parties elected stand:

Democrats, 117; Whigs, 86; Free Soilers, 10.

Texas, California, Maryland, Virginia, Georgia, Louisiana and Mississippi are the States yet to elect members. Of the last Congress, these States gave thirty-two Democrats and nine Whigs, and there is no reason to suppose that the ratio will be changed in the future delegation. A majority of the whole House will be one hundred and seventeen—and a third or so appears, by adding the 102 Democrats already elected to 32 to be elected, that the entire Democratic vote will be 132, or 22 more than a majority.

THIRTY-SECOND CONGRESS.

SENATE ELECT.

Whigs in italic; Democrats in roman; those marked F. S. are Free-Soilers or Abolitionists.

GEN. QUITMAN'S VINDICATION.

Gen. Quitman has really withdrawn from the canvass for Governor of the State of Mississippi. The following is his address, as we find it in the Natchez Free Trader:

To the Democratic Rights Party of Mississippi.

The result of the recent election for the convention, however brought about, must be regarded, at least for the present, as the end and the object of the State on the great issues involved.

The majority have declared that they are content with the late aggression, and that the people have declared against the course of policy on the slavery question, which I deemed it my duty to pursue while Governor, and which was the principle upon which I was nominated, and upon which alone I had consented to run as a candidate. I regret that the fall convention, instead of making a demonstration of public sentiment in the election for the convention; but as I have been mainly instrumental in calling the convention, and as a majority of the people through a convention, I ought, in my political action to abide by it.

Therefore, upon full consideration of all the circumstances, respect for the apparent decision of the people, duty to the noble and patriotic party who have so long and so generously sustained the South against Northern aggression, and to preserve our institutions from the fatal effects of consolidation and abolition, I withdraw from the canvass, in a sense of self-respect, which inclines me not to seek a political station in which my opinions upon vital questions are not sanctioned by a majority of my constituents, all concur in inducing me to the decision that my duty requires me to retire from the political arena. I withdraw the principles and State Rights candidates for Governor. With emotions of the deepest gratitude to the patriotic party who have so long and so generously sustained me, I tender my resignation of the high and honorable post of their chief standard bearer in the pending two years' struggle, and I do it myself in the sincerity, that I will, in the last, serve the great cause of State rights as faithfully in the ranks as I have endeavored to do in high position.

J. A. QUITMAN.

New Building Material.—The New York Tribune has examined into a new mode of building houses, invented by Mr. Ransome, of Newport, Ky., who is fitting up a splendid mansion in his own style. The walls are composed of slate, gravel and lime, hardened by chemical action, which are raised up as the walls they form become firm enough to receive another layer. In this way, Mr. Ransome has raised walls four stories high, on a much less cost than by any other plan. He designs to of concrete sheet, eighty feet in diameter, with arches and pinnacles inserted in to the walls. There is to be a large reservoir on the roof to receive rain water for the bathing and other purposes. There is a large ice house on the south side, also connected with the wall, which is to be first on the rock on which it stands. All the rooms are together, presenting a unique but pleasing appearance.

☞THE CONVENTION OF INTERNAL IMPROVEMENT COMMISSIONERS WILL BE HELD IN THIS CITY ON THE FIRST MONDAY IN NOVEMBER NEXT.

The Presbytery of Arkansas,

Will meet at Batesville, on the Friday before the first Sabbath of October.

J. W. MOORE, Stated Clerk.

☞We are compelled to defer the communications of several correspondents until next week, when they will duly appear.

☞The Whig, of yesterday, says the steamer Clermont was snagged and sunk, in White river, on Sunday last. This may be so, for aught we know to the contrary, but a gentleman who left Des Arc on Tuesday morning last, informs us that she passed down the river on the preceding day, and he heard nothing of any accident having previously happened to her.

Something New.—Read the advertisement of a "needle machine." Right's to use the machine are for sale, on reasonable terms.

☞We learn from the Memphis Appeal, that Capt. Snapp of the steamer Gen, running in the New Orleans and Memphis trade, gave a free passage to a number of volunteers for Cuba, who were returning to their homes. The volunteers arrived at Memphis on the last trip of the Gen to that city.

We will be seen from the stand of the gallant commander, Capt. Snapp, that the steamer Gen has commenced her regular trips between New Orleans and Memphis.

Progress of the Coal Work.

We learn from Mr. Beebe, that he has received a letter from Thomas J. Eischmeyer, Esq., Internal Improvement Commissioner of St. Francis county, warmly approving of the contemplated Convention of Commissioners to be held in this city on the first Monday of November next, and expressing his intention to attend said Convention. The signs are decidedly favorable to a numerous Convention of Commissioners. There can be no doubt that the plan of Mr. Beebe, sanctioned as it is by the wisest policy and the soundest arguments, but must with hearty approval, in every part of the State where it has been made known. Arkansas is arousing to her true interest. In this connection, it is gratifying to observe the unanimity and spirit with which the press of the state have enlisted in the glorious cause—a cause worthy of the devotion of the proudest intellects and the highest energies of our citizens.

White River and Napoleon Packet.

We have received a letter from Capt. COLLINS, late of the steamer St. Francis, (which was sunk in White river, two or three weeks ago,) in which he says he has succeeded in purchasing the Clermont No. 2, and would immediately resume running between Napoleon and Regan's Bluffs, on White river, in connection with Mr. Hanger's line of stages, twice a week, as heretofore.

The Clermont No. 2, is a fine vessel, in nearly new, of light draught, and a very neat and comfortable boat, and we have no doubt that freighters as well as the traveling community, will find her a convenient conveyance in our intercourse with the Mississippi river.

The Cards of Capt. Dunley and Maj. Borland.

An apology is due to our readers, for occupying so large a space, as we do to day, with the cards of the above gentlemen. It is unpleasant, to us at all times to admit into our columns any of a personal character, but, as Capt. Dunley and Maj. Borland assume that great injustice has been done them, by the publication, in the Banner, in regard to the unfortunate affair in which they were participants, we cannot with justice, deny them the right of giving their statements to the public, in their own defence. In doing so, however, we desire it to be understood, that, our paper has taken, and will take, no part in the controversy.

United Francis County.

The following letter has been received from the Commissioner of St. Francis county, by Mr. Beebe, who has politely handed it to us for publication:

INTERNAL IMPROVEMENT COMMISSION, St. Francis co., Ark., Sept. 9, 1851.

H. Beebe, Esq.:

Dear Sir—I received your communication some time ago, in relation to the Convention of Commissioners, and have recognized the name as necessary to our County Court, and am happy to inform you that the County Court of this county has appointed me a Commissioner to represent the county at such time and place as may be designated for the purpose of meeting and attending the Internal Improvement fund Convention of Arkansas.

I would suppose that you can communicate to us the day for the meeting of the Commissioners, as well as at the time appointed.

Respectfully, O. B. CALDWELL.

☞Christopher Adams, Esq., has declined the appointment of Collector of the port of New Orleans, in the place of Mr. Powell, resigned, and commenced his functions, by telegraph, on Wednesday.

☞The death of Hon. Lew. Woodbury, a Senator from Vermont, is announced.

THE MISSISSIPPI CONVENTION.

The news is fully confirmed of a complete Union triumph in the late election for members to the State Convention in Mississippi, and the withdrawal of Gen. Quitman from the canvass for Governor. The Union men contend that the South ought to acquiesce in the compromise measures as a final settlement between the North and the South, though they do not regard them as being exactly satisfactory to the South. Like the Georgia Union men, they plant their standard of resistance upon certain contingent violations of the spirit of the compromise, such as the repeal of the fugitive slave law—the refusal to admit any foreign slave territory as members of the Union, and the abolition of slavery in the District of Columbia, or of the slave trade between the States. Such is the tenor of the resolutions adopted by them at their Convention during the last spring. In fact, they have re-affirmed, and adopted fully, the Georgia platform.

The States Rights men controlled for the acknowledgment of the right of secession, though they disavowed any intention to exercise the right, under existing circumstances. They contended also, for the duty of the Southern States, to make an effort for the repeal of the act abolishing the slave trade in the District of Columbia, and for the division of California on the line of 36° 30'. It will then be perceived, that the Unionists of Mississippi are far in advance of any questions which the party, that takes the same designation in Arkansas, have ever assumed. In fact the Union men of Mississippi, if they will only stick to their platform, occupy a position next to ours in the democracy in several other States.

The democrats have nominated Col. Jefferson Davis, as their candidate for Governor, in the ensuing contest, in the place of Gen. Quitman, and as we commenced, we learn from the Mississippi, to take the field. The banner is off. Pole is a tower of strength—"a household word," as the Shakespeian expresses it, and if any body can succeed against Foote, in the coming election, Jeff. Davis is the man. Foote, however, has made wonderful progress among the people, and we should judge it will be a hard contest, though Davis never has been beaten for any thing or in any sort of fight, and he is capable of working wonders in the interim between this and November. He is a soldier, a scholar, an orator, and altogether, without reproach.

Spirit of the Press and Internal Improvement.

We published last week an excellent article, copied from the Washington Telegraph, on the subject of the Convention of County Commissioners of Internal Improvement, which it is now certain will assemble in this city on the first Monday of November, to deliberate on the future disposition of the internal improvement fund, belonging to the State of Arkansas. The article we highly approve, as a fair and clear expression of the views of all such as are favorable to a disposition of the Internal Improvement fund most conducive to the permanent interest of the State of Arkansas and her citizens generally. We refer here, more particularly, to the liberal policy, advocated by the writer, in reference to the retention of a highway of some sort, throughout the whole length and breadth of the State, and such branches, hereafter to be completed, as may be found expedient and practicable, with such terminus as may be selected on actual survey and an enlarged consideration of all the advantages of the different rival points.

Let every one who has the interest of the State at heart, take the same ground, and the proposed Convention, which is now a fixed fact, will arouse the highest interest in the public mind, promote investigation, harmonize conflicting interests, which is the first step in realizing the views, wishes, opinions and energies of every part of the State. Assemblages like the contemplated Convention, producing as they must, the kindest personal intercourse, and dispelling unworthy prejudice and petty rivalry, cannot fail to have the most beneficial effect upon the minds of men. Let the indicative effect of the Convention, be what it may, good will be the ultimate result, if it should only lay the foundation for the ultimate repeal of the unwise act of distribution. But there will be no necessity for this, if the Commissioners act wisely. Difference, now supposed to be irreconcilable, will pass away, and all petty rivalries and unmanly prejudices will disappear.

These Commissioners, when once assembled together and animated by a high and intelligent sense of duty, to their constituents, to the Federal Government of which they are trustees, in the faithful appropriation of a sacred fund to the object for which it was specially set aside, and to the whole people of the State, who have a right to succeed them, will take a higher and nobler view of their duties, than the Legislature seems to have done. They will hereafter be found advocating the true and permanent interests of the State, not confining their ideas merely to those local and neighborhood objects, which are insignificant in themselves, when compared with the true interest of the whole State, and which will in themselves, be best promoted, by such a permanent and enlarged system of improvement, as will pour in upon our new wilderness country and vacant lands the stream of wealth, energy and intelligence that is destined, at some future day, to improve, beautify, adorn and enrich every part of the State, and every neighborhood. It will increase the amount of our State and county revenues, and draw lightens the burden of individual taxation, while it may be the means of promoting every local interest, and ultimately paying off our public debt. It may in fact, ensure peace and prosperity to every section of our State, and be made potent as the lamp of Aladdin in enhancing wealth, while the narrow policy of fostering away the fund, without the least permanent return, will but open upon us Pandora's box with all its train of evils.

Tragedy in Pennsylvania.—A great riot recently occurred at Christiana, Lancaster co., Pa., growing out of the capture of a fugitive slave. The slave was in the hands of the U. S. Marshal. The abolitionists endeavored to rescue the slave, myrmidons of the officers, and murdered two citizens of Maryland who had gone to arrest the slave and were assisting the Marshal. Thirty-seven persons, all of whom but two are negroes, have been arrested for participation in the affair, charged with murder and treason. Great excitement prevails in consequence.

New Post office.—The Post Master General has established the following new Post-offices in Arkansas:

Calico, Izard co., James Jeffery, P. M.
Illinois Grove, Conway co., B. Murray, P. M.
Hickory, Sebastian co., A. J. Bourke, P. M.
Ash, Sebastian co., S. J. Vestal, P. M.

The following Post-offices have been discontinued:

The Silo Point, Prairie co., Ark.
Three Notch, Clark co., Ark.

Indian Hostilities.—The Indians are reported hostile in Minnesota. The latter have removed south of the line 200,000 for the payment of annuities, consequently the Indians of Minnesota, &c., for the different bands are now on the frontiers, all of which will be found on or among the settled parts of the country. N. O. Bulletin.

COMMUNICATION FROM L. J. WHITELEY, ESQ.

As an act of simple justice to L. A. Whiteley, Esq., we cheerfully insert the subjoined communication, containing his statement of the late affray, and excepting, as will be seen, to two points of our editorial notice of the affair. We have only to say that we were screened of any injunction to Mr. Whiteley, and would be as far from doing him intentional injury as any other of the parties, although attempts have been made to throw upon us the stigma of propagating false impressions. In the notice of the affair, we endeavored to avoid any expression or statement which could have the slightest tendency to warp or foretalling public opinion, and hence we disclaimed at the time any intention to give a connected or detailed account of the circumstances. Such, we believe, is the custom of all respectable journals, and such is the true province of the public press, especially when a judicial investigation, where impartial witnesses are examined, and all the facts fairly brought to light, is to be had. We characterized the affair as a rencounter between Mr. Whiteley and Capt. Dunley, because we had never heard any other version than that the affray commenced between them. That Mr. Whiteley only parried Capt. Dunley's blows, we had, at the time, and still believe, to be true, and that no bystanders others during the affray, we certainly had no disposition to suppress—but how or on what manner we did not essay to state, because we had heard several contradictory statements as to the particulars. We stated that friends were engaged on both sides, because it had never been pretended that Mr. Whiteley, then in his office, Reardon had a drawn weapon in his hand, when he was disarmed. The fact is endorsed in our quarter, as Mr. Whiteley states, that no friend of his struck a blow.

With regard to the late affray, we earnestly disclaim any intention, to influence or in the slightest degree to prejudice the public mind, in favor of the parties in it are amenable to public opinion and the laws of the land, for their action in the premises, and the Gazette and Democrat, as a political and public Journal, should, and does desire, nothing more than that those who are culpable should meet a just responsibility.

Our only feeling is that of regret at the occurrence.

Mr. Whiteley's communication will be found below:

Little Rock, Ark. September 22d, 1851.

Sir—I find from the columns of your notice of an "affray" in the Gazette and Democrat of Friday last that you have made a material mistake, by representing it as a rencounter between myself and Capt. C. C. Dunley; and also in the report that the mutual friends of both parties were engaged in the affair.

Although attacked by C. C. Dunley together with his two brothers and Sidon Bestard, I carried on and continued parrying C. C. Dunley, even when I might have done so effectually, and contented myself with parrying his blows, and returning those only of the able-bodied men by whom I was assailed.

No friend of mine struck a single blow during the whole fight.

I presume it will be unnecessary to remind you of the justice of making the proper correction.

Very respectfully your ob't serv't,

L. A. WHITELEY.

TO LEON. TROUSDALE Esq.
Editor Gazette and Democrat.

Cuba.

Cuba.—As we have all along suspected—as we explicitly stated the other day, and as we are now well assured from the latest and most reliable accounts from Cuba, it can be at least established that a most infamous system of misrepresentation and falsehood has been put in practice for weeks and months past, by certain Cuban refugees here and other channels of public intelligence, in relation to the actual feeling of the inhabitants of the Queen of the Antilles, against their government, and their desire to effect its overthrow.

For the last twelvemonth and more, the constant cry has been that Cuba was ripe for a popular revolution, but liberty-loving people of Cuba, overawed by despotism of the order of the Spanish yoke, and wanting their natural friends in the United States and all that was necessary to reach "success" as nominated so decisively to be wished," was simply the co-operation of a few thousand well armed and trained American men upon their shores.

As regards the whole population as heavy and ignorant, and the land as fertile, this was a very natural wish, but the fact of reputation he has not been, and will not be permitted by the people of Cuba to be realized.

The last accounts are to the effect that the late expedition have been most outrageously deceived, there can now be no doubt. It is alleged, however, that the Cuban Creoles themselves made the representations which induced the young Americans to embark in the ill-fated enterprise.

The following letter from Cuba, to a gentleman before us, that the respectable New Orleans Journals, alluded to in the above paragraph, engaged in a deliberate attempt to deceive and lead to destruction our high-minded citizens.—(Ed. Gaz. and Dem.)

Havana, Aug. 25, 1851.

Dear Sir—In response to your note received this morning, requesting a statement from me of what took place between yourself and Col. Reardon, in the fight that occurred between you, I will say that, when I first saw you and Col. Reardon, you had taken his pistol out of his hand, and had him by the coat collar, and were striking him with it, and had him down on his knees, and held him by his coat collar, or the back of his neck, with your left hand, and held the pistol in your right hand, and struck
