EXCITING DAY

Senator Gorman Made a Severe Attack Upon the Treaty.

TOOK WOLCOTT TO TASK

Maryland Senator Believes War
is Beginning.

MAY COST US MILLIONS

Treaty Ratified by a Two-Thirds Majority.

Washington, Feb. 6.—This was a day of excitement and activity in the senate. The fact that the treaty was to be voted upon and that the treaty was being in the hands of the senate was news on both sides of the chamber at a high level.

Mr. Gorman, (D., Md.) occupied a free moment in the morning hour in explaining to the senate the reasons why he opposed the treaty. Mr. Gorman, (D., Md.) followed with a general speech, in the course of which he took Mr. Wolcott (R., Md.) to task for his support of the treaty.

After the adjournment of the senate the senators returned to their homes. Mr.
Wolcott, (R., Md.) returned to his home in Baltimore. Mr. Gorman, (D., Md.) returned to his home in Annapolis.

Mr. Gorman's speech was a severe attack upon the treaty. He said that the treaty was a surrender to the insurgents and that it would cost the government millions of dollars.
