ARKANSAS WEATHER FORECAST

Partly cloudy and hazy. Maximum temperature yesterday, 91; minimum, 77.

Mr. Robinson followed by a speech of his own expressing his thanks to Mr. Hogue and thanking the audience that Mr. Hogue should have been so kind to defend him, but was running for the Missouri and expressing of it. Mr. Robinson treated his opponent with great courtesy, but evidenced the conviction by several telling words, pronounced, and pertinent and aptly among the audience.

He discussed the development of agriculture, the wonderful progress made in recent years in Arkansas, the organization of the Farmers' Educational and Cooperative Union of America and the necessity for legislation by Congress and the state to protect farm products from the evil influence of future dealers and other combinations in restriction of trade.
